Advice on Good Manners

It is important to behave well at the supermarket and on the bus.

Firstly, we should have good manners at the supermarket. We should not run when pushing the shopping cart because it is dangerous. In addition, we should not leave the line to pick up something we forgot, or take more stuff, and expect our same place back in the line. Also, we should wait patiently at the cashier because it is a kind way to do so. Moreover, we should ask for help from the supermarket staff politely.

When we are on the bus, we should not behave badly either. We should not lean on the pole on the bus. Also, we should not bring anything on board that occupies a lot of space. In addition, we should pay the fare honestly. Moreover, we should talk softly on the phone.

To sum up, we should behave well both at the supermarket and on the bus. It is a good attitude. Always be aware of your surroundings and consider the feelings of others.
