Eric and the Genie

They did not know what to do. Then the genie had an idea. ‘You can find the old wizard who lives on the top of the mountain for help,’ he suggested. Then they set off to get help from the wizard. They walked for hours and hours. They passed a lot of rivers and climbed a lot of stiff mountains.

After a long time, Eric and the genie finally arrived at their destination. He knocked on the door. Soon the wizard opened the door and greeted them in. The wizard asked, ‘How can I help you?’ ‘I wish you could help me to be short again,’ answered Eric. ‘Do you think you can help me?’ ‘Of course!’ replied the wizard confidently. ‘But I heard that you wanted to be tall earlier on, why would you like to be short again?’ Eric and the genie explained the whole thing to the wizard and the wizard offered to make a magic potion for him. However, the old wizard had a request. He told Eric to make friends with his lonely grandson, so Eric and the wizard’s grandson became friends. The wizard didn’t break his promise. He made Eric a powerful magic potion. He asked Eric to drink it if he wished to be short. Suddenly, Eric felt a bit tinkling and became short again. Eric and the genie thanked the old wizard wholeheartedly and went home joyfully. Eric was as happy as a king!

In the end, Eric returned home and kept helping his grandma to sort the boxes. He told her all about his adventure. Eric often played with the genie and the wizard’s grandson too. They all loved happily ever after.
